

Introduction to Oklahoma Slot Machine Casino Gambling 2018

Oklahoma slot machine casino gambling consists of over a hundred Native American tribal casinos, including two pari-mutuel wagering racinos. All casinos are legally allowed to offer traditional slot machines as well as Class II games.

However, most casinos have chosen to offer only Class II bingo machines, which look and behave somewhat similar to traditional slot machines. These machines are actually games of bingo with spinning video reels only for entertainment purposes.

No public information is available with regards to gaming machine payout returns in the state of Oklahoma.

This post continues the weekly blog series "Slot Machine Casino Gambling, State-By-State", a year-long online resource project dedicated to guiding slot machine gambling enthusiasts to success.

Gaming Control Board in Oklahoma

Oklahoma slot machine casino gambling is not controlled by a state-run gaming commission because there are no commercial casinos within the state of Oklahoma. Rather, Oklahoma gaming regulations are defined by negotiated state-tribal compacts between the Oklahoma state government and 31 of the 38 federally-recognized American Indian tribes within Oklahoma's borders.

Oklahoma has the second largest American Indian population in the U.S., while California has the largest. Since 2009, Oklahoma has led the nation in the growth rate of tribal gaming.

For those interested, a useful resource on tribal gaming in Oklahoma is provided by a non-profit called the Oklahoma Indian Gaming Association \(OIGA\). The OIGA was established in 1986. It is a non-profit organization of Indian Nations with other non-voting associate members representing organizations, tribes and businesses engaged in tribal gaming enterprises from around Oklahoma.

On their About webpage, they provide their mission statement, which is:

"The mission of the Oklahoma Indian Gaming Association is to promote the general welfare of the Oklahoma Indian Tribes through the development of sound policies and practices with respect to the conduct of gaming enterprises in Indian Country. As a trade association, the purpose of OIGA is to educate and disseminate information to the tribal, federal, and state governments and the general public on issues relating to tribal government gaming."

The 25 American Indian Nations of Oklahoma which are members of OIGA are:

1. Absentee Shawnee Tribe of Indians of Oklahoma;
2. Cherokee Nation of Oklahoma;
3. Chickasaw Nation of Oklahoma;
4. Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma;
5. Citizen Potawatomi Nation;
